

A large group of people, mostly in business attire, are gathered in front of a backdrop for the '121 MINING INVESTMENT' event. They are all smiling and clapping. The backdrop is dark with the event name in large white and orange letters. To the left and right of the main backdrop, there are smaller signs that say 'PANELS & PRESENTATIONS'.

The 121 Conferences have been such a great event for us to attend. At the New York event in October, we secured 7 new shareholders from our 21 meetings. It’s a great forum to reach new investors in different parts of the world.”

Bringing 121 Mining Investment to Dubai

Super Region investors are ready to dive into the mining industry and learn more about opportunities to get involved in the junior mining space. With that in mind, 121 Group is excited to be bringing our tried and tested 1-2-1 format of events to Dubai in November 2025.

We look forward to welcoming 50 junior miners to engage in pre-scheduled, 1-2-1 investment meetings with the region's top investors.

Content days will run alongside these meetings, with key focuses on the precious metals space (Day 1) and critical minerals (Day 2), covering investment strategies, industry outlook, impacts of the global macro environment on investing, and more.

Why Dubai?

The new Super Region (Africa, the Middle East, Central Asia, and South Asia) are a growing powerhouse for the metals and mining industries. With the energy transition in full force, and the move away from fossil fuels, regional investors are pivoting towards the critical minerals needed for the transition.

The region's vast capital wealth is being redirected to the metals of the future, looking across the battery and critical metals as well as the precious metals that maintain economic stability and help to preserve cultural traditions.

Dubai, and the rest of the Super Region, hosts mature investors who are ready to deploy investment into the industries of the future.

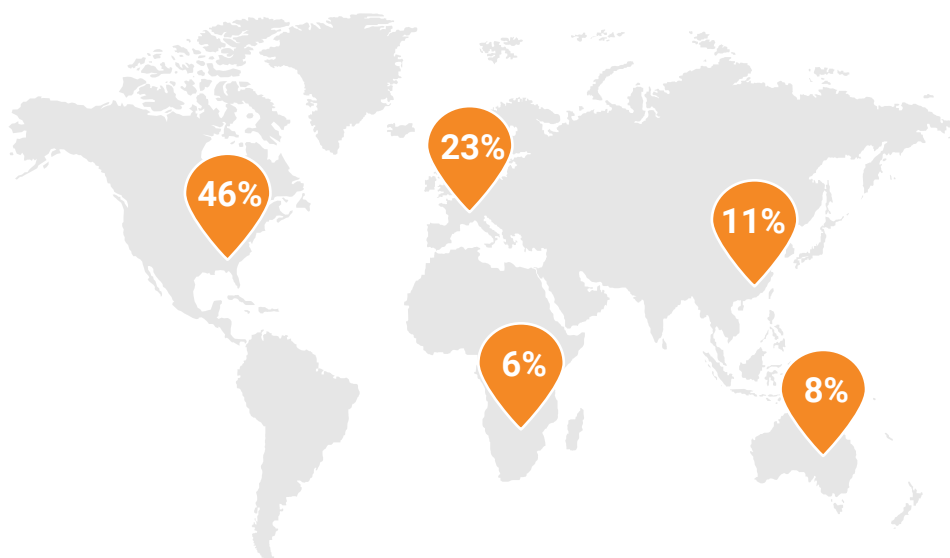

Join our industry leading investor relations program

Joining our investor relations programme will put you in front of our global sophisticated investor network all year around.

Our dedicated IR team cover major financial timezones with staff in Hong Kong, London and New York. With over 40 years of combined investor relations experience with a strong focus on the metals and mining sector, we help companies grow their investor base and shareholders by strengthening their investor sourcing strategy with year-round communication via multiple streams.

Through our 10 years of running the 121 Mining Investment event series, we have an unrivalled network of over 17,000 investors globally. Like our events, we focus on getting your message out to vetted institutional and professional investors whose job it is to invest in mining companies, as opposed to retail investors.

Pre and post 121 event support – managing your schedule and event experience from start to finish

We will create a strategic, handpicked target list of investors, manage the invitation and schedule building process, providing in depth investor profiles and contact information. Post-event, we undertake feedback calls for all scheduled meetings and provide a summary report.

Non-deal roadshows – taking your message to investors, both in-person and online

We carefully analyse the most appropriate investors to target through distribution analytics, comprehensive research of mining funds and event feedback reports, selecting which countries and cities most likely to generate the best results for your capital raise or marketing drive. We then develop a list of targeted investors to build and coordinate a successful meeting schedule, either in-person or virtually.

Targeted distribution – promoting your news and marketing to the right investors

Our global investor database includes details on investors' specific investment preferences. When distributing your announcements and marketing materials, we send to investors whose investment criteria are the best match.

Analytics – providing real-time detailed analytics and investor profiling

After each announcement we provide detailed analysis on readership, including geographic breakdowns. By tracking the readership of your announcements over time, we can analyse trends, to show how and where the investor community is engaging with your company's news, and support your future marketing, roadshows and events.

Marketing – helping you deliver the best message possible

As a client, we'll ensure your important news is distributed through The Assay platform to our network of global investors. You'll also have the opportunity to provide important project updates through our Assay TV video interview series.

In terms of the formula for industry get togethers, I don't know a better formula than 121 because you have control over your agenda. It's restricted time and you have to make use of it, and you're not bombarded by people that you have to sift through to work out their relevance.”

“

121 has been really good. It's an opportunity to talk to people who are like minded, who are interested in what we're doing. We've been able to meet with some really interesting people that look like they're going to be supporting our company moving forward.”
